

Simon Pagenaud

He came to LMP1 in 2009. He raced for team Pescarolo Sport. He didn't finish the 24 hours of Le Mans. They completed only a 210 lap. In 2010 he drove also in LMP1 category, but in Peugeot FAP 908 No. 3 in Team Peugeot. His teammates were a Sebastien Bourdais and Pedro Lamy. After that he came to Indycar to team Dreyer & Reinbold Racing he completed a three races and came to Europe for 24 hours of Le Mans. In 2012 he finally came to the Indycar series and raced for Schmidt Peterson Hamilton Motorsports. In 2013 he won with team Schmidt Peterson Hamilton Motorsports a two races and also in 2014 won twice. After this he changed a team and drove for one of the biggest teams a Team Penske. In 2015 he didn't won any races or anything. Then in 2016 won five races, seven pole positions and after battle beat his friend and teammate Will Power. He won the Indycar championship. One year later finished in Indycar the second in the points race behind his teammate Josef Newgarden.